SPLIT TICKET ON HAWAII

For Sheriff the betting is even between Koolanui and Pua. Koolanui says that Pua will win, while Koolanui has just as many supporters. Pua has been bitterly attacked on account of failure to make arrests in certain cases where men of high standing were concerned, but has defended himself through the fact that he has acted upon the advice of the county attorney. He is said to be weaker in Kona and Hilo than last year but to have made some of his fences in the latter district in the last few days. Hilo and Waialua will go strong for Koolanui this year, which will make some difference though he must pick up strongly, as in the last campaign he was beaten by 725 votes.

It is reported that there are several cases in which men have registered in two precincts which may cause trouble at the polls and the watches will be on lookout for any work of this kind. Sheriff Pua, who has been making his campaign apart from the other candidates, will have his own watches and with his control of the police will have no loophole for trickery.

In the local supervisor fight it is expected that the four regular candidates, John Brown and John Ross, on the Republican ticket, and David Ewaliko and Manuel Pheebes, on the opposing combination, will be close together, with the odds rather in favor of the last two mentioned, but Ross having a fair chance as the result of the number of Hawaiian candidates. The two independents, Cabrera and Kealoha, are both out of the race, save for hurrying the Republican candidates, when they are sure to do.

For the offices of County Clerk, County Auditor, County Attorney, Kai, Maguire and Beers are certain. Kuhl is far in lead.

The Delegate fight on this island is bound to give Kuhl a big majority. Two years ago the vote was: Kuhl, 1787; McCandless, 762; Notley, 446. This year it is doubtful if Notley polls over 150 while there are about 250 more votes to be cast. From a very conservative estimate it looks as though there would be about 3075 votes cast which, with Notley's 150 eliminated, will probably be divided as follows: McCandless, 1150; Kuhl, 1930. This would give Kuhl 780 majority. These figures are extremely conservative from the Kuhl standpoint and the chances are good that he will come much closer to 1000 majority than to the 780 mentioned.

REPUBLICANS CLOSE CAMPAIGN BEFORE THOUSANDS OF VOTERS

Palace Square Holds Great Crowd—Speakers Are Eloquent

Five thousand people at a conservative count crowded the Palace Square grounds last night for the closing rally of the Republican campaign, stayed through intermittent showers, until long after eleven o'clock, and altogether afforded the Republican leaders complete satisfaction and more confidence than they have had from any meeting for the entire campaign.

Speaker after speaker was given warm applause. However, the applause was not as satisfactory to the campaign managers as the deep and respectful attention accorded to those who spoke.

The Democratic meeting at Asia Park was larger in point of numbers during the early evening, but the numbers of voters, according to an estimate made, was not as great as the number that attended the Republican rally, while the Asia Park meeting was noisy and half those present were occupied in exchanging heated political views among themselves than in listening to the those on the platform.

Palace Square was all the blaze of glory that J. Walter Doyle, the Republican publicity director, had promised. Electric lights of many colors were strung about the square and showed in the trees the bandstand, where the speakers, candidates and musicians were seated was lighted by many additional bulbs, and the almost continuous burning of big sky rockets kept the square light as day for minutes at a time.

The torchlight procession arrived promptly on time, and the meeting opened about 7:30 o'clock. Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the territorial central committee, presided and made an apt and clever presiding officer for one of the biggest Republican meetings ever held in the territory.

Delegate Kuhl had gone to Waialua for a short meeting there, and did not reach Honolulu again until nearly ten o'clock, and there was some straining out of the speeches and pictures in order to hold the big crowd. George Davis was the first speaker, and he was followed by A.D. Castro, with Col. Sam Parker and Collector of Internal Revenue Cottrill delivering the main address of the evening, though Kuhl's speech naturally held the center of sensational interest.

The speakers were usually eloquent and forceful, and this coupled with the excellent class of moving pictures handed out by Eddie Fernandez, kept the crowd without any difficulty.

Mr. Cottrill made a strong speech for Republicanism, and incidentally made an election-day prophecy that President Taft will be returned to office. He spoke in hearty eulogy of Taft and of his work for the Republican party and the country at large.

Andrew Cox followed Cottrill, and Kuhl followed Cox. The most important part of Kuhl's speech is published in another column of this issue. The delegate urged the voters to cast their ballots for the entire Republican ticket and especially to elect a Republican legislature. He declared that his record in Congress is an open book, that he is not afraid to ask for reelection on the basis of what he has done.

A. S. Kaleiogu, George F. Kention, W. T. Rawlins, Charles F. Chillingworth and several others spoke during the evening.

A number of the candidates made short addresses. Rawlins made a hit in his plea for the election of Capt. Robert Parker as Sheriff.

BARRON WORKS IN VOTERS' LINE

"Soap-box" Barron was the cause of some friction this morning at the polling place at the Ninth precinct of the Fourth district the polling place of which is at the central fire station.

According to a report which reached the Republican headquarters shortly before ten o'clock, the soap-box orator had planted himself in the voters' line and was preaching Democratic doctrine. Whenever an attempt was made to put him out of the line for electioneering closer to the polls than the law allows, Barron would refuse to get out on the ground that he was waiting to vote. Instead of voting, however, he stayed in line and electioneered. About ten o'clock he finally went in the booth to vote.

"I told Barron that if he didn't stop his dirty stunts and quit electioneering I would take off my coat and we'd see who was the best man," said a Republican voter, who is about the size of the soap-box Demosthenes. Then he shut up, saying he didn't mean his stunts that way. He broke the law openly in order to help boost the Democrats.

STEAMSHIP MEN VOTE

Officers and employees in practically all Inter-Island Steam Navigation liners were given every opportunity to cast their vote today, the schedules being so arranged that all vessels remained for some time at a home port. The Mauna Kea was an early arrival from Hilo this morning. The Claudine, that usually returns to Honolulu on Wednesday morning, came into port this morning, thereby affording a chance for a number of men to exercise their right of franchise.

Coasting steamers that have been departing at an earlier date during the week were held until afternoon with a view of giving the crews time to cast a ballot at the polls.

The steamers Iwawani for Hawaii, the Nihaun for Kauai, Kinan for Kauai, Nonaun for Kauai, and Mikahala for Maui, Molokai and Lanai ports, are to depart for their respective routes this afternoon, and at the closing of the polls.

At Hilo today the Kauai, Keauhou and Kaula are lying by pending the election.

LYMAN FINALLY SENDS IN HIS RESIGNATION

Evidently deciding that forethought is better than "hindsight," Norman Lyman, supervisor in the Puna district, Hawaii, and candidate for election as a legislator from that island, yesterday afternoon sent to Governor Frear by wireless his resignation from the supervisory job. His resignation was sent in response to a message sent him by the Governor.

It is Lyman's tacit refusal to accept the advice of Attorney Carl Carlsmith, which was given Lyman and another candidate a few days ago to the effect that they could not be compelled by law to resign from their present public positions in order to be legal candidates for the legislature. Lyman evidently gave the suggestion careful consideration for his resignation came only at the last moment. He concluded not to take the risk of embarrassing complications.
